CHAPTER VI.

A FORTNIGHT later Montgomery Brewster had a new home. In strict obedience to his chief's command, Nopper Harrison had leased until the September following one of the most expensive apartments to be found in New York city. The rental was $23,000, and the shrewd financial representative had saved $1,000 for his employer by paying the sum in advance. But when he reported this bit of economy to Mr. Brewster he was surprised that it brought forth a frown. "I never saw a man who had less sense about money," muttered Nopper to himself. "Why, he spends it like a Chicago millionaire trying to get into New York society. If it were not for the rest of us he'd be a pauper in six months."

Paul Pettigill, to his own intense surprise and, it must be said, consternation, was engaged to redecorate certain rooms according to a plan suggested by the tenant. The rising young artist in a great hurry of excitement agreed to do the work for $500 and then flushed like a schoolgirl when he was informed by the practical Brewster that the paints and material for one room alone would cost twice as much.

"Petty, you have no more idea of business than a goat," criticized Montgomery. And Paul lowered his head in humble confession. "That man who calculates your studio could figure on a piece of work with more intelligence than you reveal. I'll pay $2,500. It's only a fair price, and I can't afford anything cheap in this place."

"At this rate you won't be able to afford anything," said Pettigill to himself.

And so it was that Pettigill and a corps of decorators soon turned the rooms into a confusion of scaffolding and paint buckets, out of which in the end emerged something very distinguished. No one had ever thought Pettigill deficient in ideas, and this was his opportunity. The only drawback was the time limit which Brewster so remorselessly fixed. Without that he felt that he could have done something splendid in the way of decorative panes--something that would make even the glory of Puvion de Chavannes turn pallid. With it he was obliged to curb his turbulent ideas, and he decided that a rich simplicity was the proper note. The result was gorgeous, but not gorgeous--it had depth and distinction.

Elated and eager, he assisted Brewster in selecting furniture and hangings for each room, but he did not know that his employer was making conditions of his selection. Mr. Brewster had agreed with them all the dealers to the effect that they were to buy everything back at a fair price if he desired to give up his establishment within a year. He adhered to this rule in all cases that called for the purchase outright of substantial necessities. The bump of calculativeness in Monty Brewster's head was growing to abnormal proportions.

In retaining his rooms at Mrs. Gray's he gave the flimsy but pathetic excuse that he wanted a place in which he might find occasional seasons of peace and quiet. When Mrs. Gray protested against this useless bit of extravagance his grief was so obviously genuine that her heart was touched, and there was a deep, fervent joy in her soul. She loved this fair faced boy, and tears of happiness came to her eyes when she was given this new proof of his loyalty and devotion. His rooms were kept for him just as if he had expected to occupy them every day and every night, notwithstanding the luxurious apartments he was to maintain elsewhere. The Oliver Optic books still lay in the attic, all tattered and torn, but to Margaret the embodiment of prospective riches, promises of sweet hours to come. She knew Monty well enough to feel that he would not forget the dark little attic of old for all the splendors that might come with the new dispensation.

There was no little surprise when he sent out invitations for a large dinner. His grandfather had been dead less than a month, and society was somewhat scandalized by the plain symptoms of disrespect he was showing. No one had expected him to observe a prolonged season of mourning, but that he should disregard the formalities completely was rather shocking. Some of the older people, who had not long to live and who had heirs apparent, openly denounced his heartlessness. It was not very gratifying to think of what might be in store for him if all memories were as short as Brewster's. Old Mrs. Ketchell changed her will, and two nephews were cut off entirely. A very modest and impetuous grandson of Joseph Garrity also was to sustain a severe change of fortune in the near future if the cards spoke correctly. Judge Van Woort, who was not expected to live through the night, got better immediately after hearing some one in the sickroom whisper that Montgomery Brewster was to give a big dinner. Naturally the heirs-to-be condemned young Brewster in no uncertain terms.

Nevertheless the dinner to be given by the grandson of old Edwin Peter Brewster was the talk of the town, and not one of the sixty invited guests could have been persuaded to miss it. Reports as to its magnificence were abroad long before the night set for the dinner. One of them had it that it was to cost $3,000 a plate. From that figure the legendary price receded to a mark as low as $500. Montgomery would have been only too glad to pay $3,000 or more, but some mysterious force conveyed to his mind a perfect portrait of Sweeney Jones in the act of putting down a large black mark against him, and he forbore.

"I wish I knew whether I had to abide by the New York or the Montana standard of extravagance," Brewster said to himself. "I wonder if he ever sees the New York papers."

Late each night the last of the grand old Brewster family went to his bedroom, where, after dismissing his man, he settled down at his desk, with a pencil and a pad of paper. Lighting the candles, which were more easily managed, he found, than lamps and much more costly, he thoughtfully and religiously calculated his expenses for the day. Nopper Harrison and Elton Gardner had the receipts for all money spent, and Joe Bragdon was keeping an official report, but the "chief," as they called him, could not go to sleep until he was satisfied in his own mind that he was keeping up the average. For the first two weeks it had been easy--in fact, he seemed to have quite a comfortable lead in the race. He had spent almost $100,000 in the fortnight, but he realized that the greater part of it had gone into the yearly and not the daily expense account. He kept a "profit and loss" entry in his little private ledger, but it was not like any other account of the kind in the world. What the ordinary merchant would have charged to "loss" he jotted down on the "profit" side, and he was continually looking for opportunities to swell the total.

Rawles, who had been his grandfather's butler since the day after he landed in New York, came over to the grandson's establishment, greatly to the wrath and confusion of the latter's Aunt Emmeline. The chief came from Paris, and his name was Dettuit. Ellis, the footman, also found a much better berth with Monty than he had had in the house on the avenue. Aunt Emmeline never forgave her nephew for these base and disturbing acts of treachery, as she called them.

One of Monty's most extraordinary financial feats grew out of the purchase of a $14,000 automobile. He blandly admitted to Nopper Harrison and the two secretaries that he intended to use it to practice with only, and that as soon as he learned how to run an "auto" as it should be run he expected to buy a good, sensible, durable machine for $7,000.

His staff officers frequently put their heads together to devise ways and means of curbing Monty's reckless extravagance. They were worried.

"He's like a sailor in port," protested Harrison. "Money is no object if he wants a thing, and--hang it--he seems to want everything he sees."

"It won't last long," Gardner said reassuringly. "Like his namesake, Monte-Christo, the world is his just now, and he wants to enjoy it."

"He wants to get rid of it, it seems to me."

Whenever they reproached Brewster about the matter he disarmed them by saying: "Now that I've got money I mean to give my friends a good time. Just what you'd do if you were in my place. What's money for, anyway?"

"But this $3,000 a plate dinner?"

"I'm going to give a dozen of them, and even then I can't pay my just debts. For years I've been entertained at people's houses and have been taken cruising on their yachts. They have always been busy to me, and what have I ever done for them? Nothing. Now that I can afford it, I am going to return some of these favors and square myself. Doesn't it sound reasonable?"

And so preparations for Monty's dinner went on. In addition to what he called his "efficient corps of gentlemanly aids" he had secured the services of Mrs. Dan DeMille as "social mentor and utility chaperon." Mrs. DeMille was known in the papers as the leader of the fast young married set. She was one of the cleverest and best looking young women in town, and her husband was one of those who did not have to be "invited to." Mr. DeMille lived at the club and visited his home. Some one said that he was so slow and his wife so fast that when she invited him to dinner he was usually two or three days late. Altogether Mrs. DeMille was a decided acquisition to Brewster's campaign committee. It required just her touch to make his parties fun instead of funny.

It was on Oct. 18 that the dinner was given. With the skill of a general Mrs. Dan had seated the guests in such a way that from the beginning things went off with zest. Colonel Drew took in Mrs. Valentine, and his content was assured. Mr. Van Winkle and the beautiful Miss Valentine were side by side, and no one could say he looked unhappy. Mr. Cromwell went in with Mrs. Savage, and the same delicate tact--in some cases it was almost in delicate--was displayed in the disposition of other guests.

TAKING REBATES

This Is What Big Company
Is Doing Alleges This Complainant.

AN INTERESTING SUIT

Accounting On Behalf of Stockholders Is Demanded Against International Harvester Company.

Among Other Things the Complainant Sets Out How Alleged Rebates Were Secured.

Chicago, July 12.--Another attack has been made upon the International Harvester company by Rodney B. Swift, formerly head of the experimental department of the McCormick branch of the harvester company. Swift's connection with the company was severed some months ago and suit commenced against him by the officials of the company, who alleged that he had defrauded them in the sale of a patent. In his bill just filed Swift, as a stockholder, demands an accounting from the company and demands that the court force the company to cease taking rebates from railroad companies and also compel the company to return to the railroads moneys said by Swift to have been illegally exacted from the railroads in the past. The following railroads are also made parties to the suit: Chicago, West Pullman & Southern, Illinois Northern, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Chicago & Northwestern, Illinois Central, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, Chicago & Alton, Chicago Great Western, Wisconsin Central.

Of the railroads made defendant in the suit, two, the Chicago, West Pullman & Southern and the Illinois Northern, are described in the bill filed by Swift as being the means by which tribute was exacted from the larger roads in favor of the harvester company.

The two roads, Swift asserts, consist principally of switch tracks. He declares that up to Sept. 30, 1902, the McCormick branch of the harvester company alone forced the railroads to pay it, through rebates and the operation of the Illinois Northern road, a sum in excess of $3,000,000. Up to the same date the money received in rebates by the Plano branch of the harvester company through the agency of the Chicago, West Pullman & Southern railroad, amounted to $500,000. Since Sept. 30, 1902, it is declared that all the other railway companies have been making payments of rebates to the International Harvester company under the guise of an alleged division of freight rates with the Illinois Northern company. Swift asserts that the alleged illegal rebates made to the harvester company since 1902 amount to more than $1,000,000. Swift goes into the details of the organization of the International Harvester company, declaring that shortly after its formation an arrangement was made between President Cyrus H. McCormick, Charles Deering, Geo. W. Perkins and William C. Lane to the effect that all of the stock of the International company should be put in charge of the first named three men as trustees for voting purposes until 1912. Swift demands that the voting agreement be terminated by the court.

It is further declared in the bill that the business of the International Harvester company is of an extremely profitable character. He asserts that harvesting machines can be produced and delivered by the company for $57. The company receives $95 for them from agents, who in turn sell them for $125. It is stated that the company has by its officers taken the position that the only persons having the right to examine the books of the company are the trustees of the stock, Perkins, McCormick and Deering. Swift says that all his demands for an examination of the company's books have been refused.

It is further declared that the unlawful course of the directors of the corporation has damaged the harvester company to the extent of $5,000,000, which amount Swift demands the directors repay to the company.

A Woman's Suicide.

Kansas City, Mo., July 12.--While her husband was playing ball yesterday Mrs. Frank Bonner, wife of the second baseman of the Kansas City American Association baseball club, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. When Bonner returned home after the day's game he found the body of his wife.

DEADLY FIRE-DAMP

More Than a Hundred Miners Killed in Welsh Colliery.

Cardiff, Wales, July 12.--An explosion of fire-damp in No. 2 pit of the United National Colliery company at Wattstown in the Rhondda valley, the center of the great Welsh coal fields, is believed to have resulted in the loss of at least 125 lives.

The explosion was followed immediately by the belching of clouds of smoke from the shaft, in which 150 men were working. The force of the explosion wrecked the machinery at the mouth of the pit. All communication with the doomed men in this direction was completely cut off. No. 1 shaft adjoining, has ordinarily afforded communication at No. 2. The men in No. 1 and the few who escaped from No. 2 were drawn up.

A rescue party descended, but its work was seriously impeded by the foul air and the falling masses of the coal dislodged by the explosion. Altogether fifty-nine bodies have been recovered.

Heroic efforts have been made to reach the entrapped men, but the absence of all sound from the interior of the mine tells the tale of the worst disaster that has taken place in south Wales since 1894. Efforts at rescue are still in progress and currents of fresh air are being driven through the shaft, but the rescuers are working without hope of reducing the list of fatalities.

WILL GO TO BOTTOM

Probe Will Not Be Spared in Agricultural Scandal.

Washington, July 12.--Acting Attorney General Hoyt has received from Secretary of Agriculture Wilson the papers in the cotton report investigation. Subsequently the papers were placed in the hands of United States District Attorney Morgan H. Beach, who will probe into the whole subject and make a thorough inquiry embracing every detail connected with the compilation of the statistics involved. Mr. Hoyt stated that he had been urged by Secretary Wilson to probe the matter to the bottom and to use any means at his command to get at the true condition and to bring all guilty persons to trial. Mr. Hoyt and Mr. Beach have already been in communication and it will be determined whether there is any statute under which a criminal prosecution may be directed against Edwin S. Holmes, the former associate statistician of the department of agriculture, who was dismissed, it is alleged, because he "juggled" figures in the government crop estimates and furnished advance information to New York brokers, and against any others that may be found implicated. In case criminal proceedings is not possible, some other way to reach the guilty party is to be sought.

Atlantic City Tragedy.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 12.--Edward O. Doughty of Philadelphia shot and killed Mela S. Clyde of Philadelphia and then committed suicide. Doughty was jealous of the woman. He met her on the street and, drawing a revolver, chased her into a crowded grocery store and sent several bullets into her breast. Doughty had a room in the building over the store and, going there, shot himself, dying instantly.

Great Meeting of Baptists.

The congress of Baptists is in session, including representatives from every country in the world excepting Palestine and Java. The congress will continue in session until July 18, meeting three times daily at Exeter Hall and concluding with a grand demonstration at the Royal Albert Hall.

BUSINESSLIKE METHODS

Hanly Administration Looks Well to the Tax-Payer's Interests.

Indianapolis, July 12.--The state debt is being rapidly diminished. $253,000 worth of 3 per cent school fund-refunding bonds that are a part of the state indebtedness having been cancelled today. The bonds are held by New York financiers and warrants in payment of the amount were mailed to them by Auditor of State Sherrick. The bonds had three years to run, but it was optional with the state to pay them before that time. It is likely that all the state debt that is payable within the next few years will be cancelled during Governor Hanly's administration, notwithstanding the reports so vigorously circulated last winter prior to the convening of the legislature that the state was "broke" and could not afford to build new institutions. There are still $154,000 worth of 3 per cent school fund-refunding bonds outstanding, but they will be cancelled next January. There are $800,000 worth of 3 1/2 per cent bonds that Governor Hanly hopes to see paid during his administration. The rest of the state debt is $344,000 to Purdue university and $144,000 to Indiana university, which cannot be taken up until the time limit expires. Auditor Sherrick today sent out warrants for $132,779 from the common school fund which was apportioned among the county treasurers according to the amount to which their counties were entitled.

EASY WORK

"Love lightens labor," the saying is true, and in a sense it is true. But even love cannot lighten labor or make it easy for the woman who is in constant suffering from inflammation, bearing-down pains or other womanly diseases. The one thing that can make work easy for women is sound health, and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the thing that will give sound health to sick women. Dr. Pierce has so much faith in his "Prescription" that he offers to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure. "I suffered from female weakness for five months," writes Miss Belle Hebrick of NYC. Putnam Co., N. Y. "I was treated by a good physician but he never seemed to do me any good. I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce for advice, which I received, telling me to take his 'Favorite Prescription' and Golden Medical Discovery. When I had used the medicines a month, my health was much improved. It has continued to improve until now I can work at almost all kinds of housework. I had scarcely any appetite, but it is all right now. I have gained several pounds in weight. Dr. Pierce's medicines have done wonderfully well here. I would advise all who suffer from chronic diseases to write to Dr. Pierce." "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

It is said that John Hay was worth about $10,000,000 when he died. A large part of his fortune came from his wife though he was himself a good financier and made a great deal of money.

To be sure all the railroads in the state are making complaint about their assessment. That was expected. They must object as a matter of form if nothing else. But railroads should be assessed on the same basis other property is assessed. They should pay their just portion of taxes, no more nor no less.

Most every day Governor Hanly receives copies of resolutions adopted by some organization commending his stand for obedience to the law of the state. What organization dares adopt resolutions in opposition to the enforcement of law as advocated by the Governor? The masses of the people are with Governor Hanly.

WE READ of some merchants in a town in another state who have hit upon a plan to meet the mail order houses. They secure the catalogues of these mail order houses and advertise that they will duplicate the prices named in them and save the purchaser freight and express charges. They find that they have in this way just about put the mail order houses out of business in that territory. Their customers too, are saving money.

GANG OF THIEVES.

Will Be Rounded Up Says The Bedford Mail.

The Bedford Mail says that a gang of thieves who have in recent years been operating in Lawrence, Jackson, Jennings counties are about to be rounded up. The police authorities at Bedford have been at work a long time on several clues and they declare that the guilty party will be behind the bars in due time.

It is alleged that this gang looted the safe at Hunsucker's store in Vallonia January 5, and secured about $2,300. But it was here that the gang left "tracks" which gave a clue that will lead to their undoing. It is reported that the alleged leader of the gang is now under surveillance and if the officers at Bedford succeed in their detective work as they believe they will this man will be arrested along with some of his associates.

It is further stated that this suspected man with others drove to Bedford the next morning after the Vallonia robbery. The supposed leader got out of the buggy and walked into town. An article lost by him and picked up by another gave the first clue. This man the Mail says belongs to the "afraid of work" class, but he is known to have had plenty of money right after the Vallonia robbery. The Heltonville postoffice was robbed January 20 and a little later the Free town post office was looted. About the same time the ticket office at Hayden was robbed. It is suspected that the same gang did all these jobs.

ECZEMA

ITCHES AND BURNS

The return of warm weather means a return of torture to Ecema sufferers. The blood is charged with burning acids and acid matter which is forced to the surface through the pores and glands, forming pustules which discharge a sticky fluid, and the itching is intense.

The doctors said I had pustular Ecema, it would break out in small white pustules, mostly on my face and hands, discharging a sticky fluid; crusts would form and drop off, leaving the skin red and inflamed. I was tormented with the itching and burning characteristic of the disease for five years, and during the time used various medicated soaps, ointments and washes, but these applications seemed to make me worse. After taking S. S. S. a short time I began to improve, the itching did not worry me so much, I continued the medicine, and soon all the ugly eruptions disappeared and my skin is now as clear as anybody's. I have not been troubled with any breaking out since. E. E. KELLY, Urbana, O.

Sometimes the disease is in the dry form, and bran-like scales form on the skin, but the cause is the same—humors in the blood. Salves, cooling washes, powders and the like can do nothing more than relieve the itching, because they do not reach the acid-laden blood, the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Ecema and all skin diseases by neutralizing the acids and carrying them off through the proper channels. When S. S. S. has done this the symptoms pass away, the blood is cooled and the disease is cured permanently. Nothing acts so promptly or surely in skin diseases as S. S. S., and it at the same time acts as a tonic to the entire system. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice without charge.

The Doctor in the Duel.

A medical man in France was asked to be present at a duel in his professional capacity. He got up early, traveled some miles, "flamed" the swords and ministered to his client, who was slightly wounded. When both honor and wound were healed he looked for his fees and sent in a bill for $10. The patient replied through his wife, who wrote: "I am told that between men there is a question of delicacy which forbids even the slightest appearance of trade in such a matter. Neither the doctors nor the seconds are brought on the ground for money. If you persist in your claim I shall, to my great regret, be obliged to leave to others the duty of settling this fine point with you."

A Grim Tragedy

is daily enacted, in thousands of homes, as death claims, in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntly, of Oakland-on, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c and $1.00 by W. F. Peter Drug Co.

The Columbus papers state that Mr. Earl intimated that he was gathering information against others and that other arrests would likely follow.

DEPOSITORS WAIT

Much Anxiety Is Displayed at Terre Haute Over Bank Losses.

GIVEN A RAY OF HOPE

It is Thought Probable Now That Depositors May Receive Their Money in Full.

Stockholders of the Vigo National However, See No Hope For Themselves.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 12.—Judge Francis Oldham, representing the controller of the currency, will be here in a few days to determine whether there has been fraud or criminal conduct in the management of the Vigo National bank. He has left Washington city, but will first visit Topeka, Kan. Depositors have begun filing claims in the form provided by law, and it will be a week longer before the work of Bank Examiner Frazier is done. There is much centering of interest over the appointment of a receiver for the bank. The best information now is that the depositors will be paid in full, and that the stockholders will lose their stock, the $50,000 surplus and some thousands of undivided profits.

COUNCIL AND POLICE DIFFER

Former May Be Prosecuted for Refusing to Appropriate Money.

Kokomo, Ind., July 12.—In retaliation for the city council for refusing to appropriate the amount of money they desired for the maintenance of the metropolitan police department of Kokomo, the police commissioners are seeking to have the members of the city council prosecuted for alleged interference with that clause of the metropolitan police law which provides that "any person or persons or corporation or common council or other municipal, township, county or state officer or officers, who shall in any manner interfere with or interrupt the board of metropolitan police commissioners while in the legal discharge of their duties, etc., shall be fined not less than $100 or more than $1,000, to which may be added imprisonment for not less than ten days or more than ninety days for each separate offense."

The councilmen regard the talk of prosecution as a bluff, and are standing by their appropriation. They assert that the police department will get the money it wishes when the courts give it to them, and not before.

Petty Graft Alleged.

New Albany, Ind., July 12.—As a result of a fight between Thomas Schuyler and Emmett Beard, members of the fire department, both men were arrested and Beard made charges that "graft" was being practiced in this city. He said that to obtain an appointment in the fire department he promised to pay $10 per month out of his salary. He paid two installments and refused to make further payments. His assertions have caused a sensation and probably will result in a councilmanic investigation to ascertain if tribute is being levied on members of the fire department.

Father Held to Answer.

Marion, Ind., July 12.—Otto Whisler, a well-known resident of Marion, is in jail charged with having attempted to drown his three-year-old daughter. Parties living near the river were startled by hearing the screams of a child coming apparently from the water. Several rushed down to the river and found Whisler, it is stated, in the act of throwing the little one into the river. The police were notified and the child rescued by some of the parties living in the neighborhood. Whisler says he was only trying to frighten the child.

Starved Herself to Death.

Greenfield, Ind., July 12.—Mrs. Margaret Roland, sixty-seven years old, and for many years a resident of this city, is dead. Six weeks ago she decided she would eat no more, and relatives and friends were unable to shake her determination not to take nourishment. Neither would she take medicine prescribed by the family physician, and she lived without sustenance of any kind for forty days, finally dying of exhaustion.

Stole Best of Everything.

Cambridge, Ind., July 12.—Robbers broke down the rear door of Morris & Kral's dry goods and clothing store and then stole $800 worth of goods, which they hauled away in wagons. They also robbed the cash drawer of a small sum. They stole the best of everything in the store.

Killed in Farm Accident.

Elwood, Ind., July 12.—Everett, ten years old, son of Franklin Etchison, near this city, while working with a hay baler, was struck across the abdomen by a lever, causing death some hours later.

A Boy and a Gun.

Portland, Ind., July 12.—While playing with a pistol which he thought was not loaded, Charles Sommers, twelve years old, shot himself through the lower part of his left thigh.

Spoiled Her Beauty.

Harriet Howard, of 209 W. 34th St. New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had salt rheum or eczema for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Neuralgia And Other Pain.

All pain in any disease is nerve pain, the result of a turbulent condition of the nerves. The stabbing, lacerating, darting, burning, agonizing pain that comes from the prominent nerve branches, or sensory nerves, is neuralgia, and is the "big brother" of all the other pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills rarely ever fail to relieve these pains by soothing these larger nerves, and restoring their tranquility.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills leave no bad after-effects, and are a reliable remedy for every kind of pain, such as headache, backache, stomachache, sciatica, rheumatism and neuralgia. They also relieve Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Car-Sickness, and Distress after eating.

"For many years I have been a constant sufferer from neuralgia and headache, and have never been able to obtain any relief from various headache powders and capsules, until I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They always cure my headache in five minutes time." FRED R. SWINGLEY, Cashier 1st Nat. Bank, Atkinson, Neb.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

A WAY OPEN.

Many A Seymour Reader Knows

It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Seymour people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof of the like of which has never been produced before in Seymour. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. Atlas Shannon of Third street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills gave me positive relief from the dull dragging pain in my back, banished the extreme sensitiveness over the loins which caused sharp twinges when stooping or moving quickly and removed the restless nights besides strengthening the renal organs that I was no longer embarrassed by the kidney secretions. I was greatly gratified by the satisfactory results I obtained and my advice to others is to go to Milbourn's drug store and procure Doan's Kidney Pills if in need of a remedy of this nature."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milbourn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

AFTER THE BOODLERS

Sixty Additional Indictments Returned

at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, July 12.—The Milwaukee county grand jury, which has been investigating alleged graft cases, has returned another batch of true bills, said to number upward of sixty. Capiases will be made out and placed in the hands of the sheriff for service at once. The number of individuals affected has not yet been made up. The indictments are supposed to cover other county deals than those already investigated. It is also said some of the indictments concern certain state legislators in connection with laws enacted two years ago.

This batch of true bills, added to the thirty-eight returned ten days ago, makes a total of 105 thus far. The last list contains twenty out of the twenty-one names returned in the last batch, there being but five new names not before reported.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size, 75c. For sale by W. F. Peter Drug Co.

THE LAST OF JULY

Will Witness the Gathering of Peace Missions At Washington.

FIXING THE DETAILS

Both Ambassador Rosen and Minister Takahira Will Talk With the President This Week.

Nothing More Is Heard of China's Request to Be Represented At the Conference.

Washington, July 12.—By appointment Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese minister, will call on the president at Oyster Bay Friday morning for a conference regarding the peace negotiations. The minister will return probably to Washington Saturday and then go away for a brief rest, of which he is much in need.

The Japanese mission is expected to reach New York about the last of July. Baron Komura will be accompanied by Colonel Tachibana, a newly appointed military attaché at Washington, who will be one of the advisers of the mission; Mr. Adachi, first secretary of legation, unattached, who served with Mr. Takahira while the latter was minister to Rome; Mr. Sato of the foreign office, who accompanied Prince Fushimi to this country last year; an American lawyer who has been legal adviser to the foreign office for twenty-five years; Mr. Yamaca, chief of the Japanese political bureau, and two private secretaries. The Japanese mission will be supplemented at Portsmouth by Mr. Takahira, the other plenipotentiary, Commander Taheshita, the Japanese naval attaché at Washington; Mr. Hanihara, third secretary of legation here, and probably several other secretaries from the legation.

Throughout the conference the Japanese legation will remain at Washington with Mr. Hickl, first secretary, in charge. The legation will keep in close touch with the plenipotentiaries, and through its proximity to the state department will render material assistance to them.

Nothing more is heard here of China's request to be represented at the conference. This action on the part of China has by no means pleased Japan, and the latter's objection was fully expected by the Washington authorities. Whether the president has communicated with China on the subject cannot be learned here. In diplomatic quarters sympathetic to Japan it is declared that China's request was made at the instance of Russia, but this statement lacks official confirmation.

Significant Meeting.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 12.—Arrangements have practically been completed for the presentation to the president tomorrow of Baron Rosen, the new Russian ambassador. It is expected that the exchanges between the president and the ambassador when the latter presents his credentials will be important and significant.

Restless Russian Sailors.

Kustentj, Roumania, July 12.—The Russian squadron seems to be delayed here owing to the fear that another mutiny will break out should the vessels put to sea. The fact that fifty-five sailors from the Kiaz Potemkin who surrendered have been imprisoned on board the different vessels of the squadron awaiting trial for rebellion, has caused intense indignation among the crews, and as a consequence there are fears of another mutiny.

MOONSHINE RAID

Desperate Battle Fought in the Mountains of Kentucky.

Mayking, Ky., July 12.—A desperate battle between moonshiners and federal officers was fought in the Elk-horn district. Albritton Potter, deputy United States marshal, led the officers on the raid. On a lonely mountain path the moonshiners, under the leadership of Calvin Centers, opened fire on the officers. For half an hour the battle raged. Centers was killed and Henry Adams was fatally wounded. A man named Tucker received a dangerous wound. It is said that one of the officers was shot in the battle.

Grand Officers of Elks.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 12.—The following grand lodge officers were elected at the annual reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks: Grand exalted ruler, Robt. W. Brown, Louisville, Ky.; grand esteemed leading knight, C. F. Tomlinson, Winston, N. C.; grand esteemed loyal knight, Charles W. Kaufmann, Hoboken, N. J.; grand esteemed lecturing knight, Edward McLaughlin, Boston; grand secretary, Fred C. Robinson, Dubuque, Ia.; grand treasurer, John K. Tener, Charleroi, Pa.; grand Tyler, W. W. McClelland, Pittsburg, Pa.; grand trustee (long term), John D. O'Shea, Lynn, Mass.; grand trustee (short term), Dr. W. Haviland, Butte, Mont.

Cairo, Ill., July 12.—John H. Mulkey,

formerly associate justice of the supreme court of Illinois, is dead at his home in Metropolis at the age of eighty-two years.
